Liberation theology in today's Catholic Church is focus of ... Written by three wives and mothers, Theology of Home is a simple guide to help reorient all of us toward our true home, allowing us to think purposefully about how to make our own homes on earth better equipped to get all those living in them to the Father's house.

Theology of Home Liberation theology captured the hopes and the longings of poor people, especially in Latin America in the 1960s and 1970s. I think at the very least liberation theology is a reflection on the fact that human liberation has to be part of the Christian understanding of salvation.

Do you hear the cry of the poor? Liberation theology today ... To a Catholic, theology without the Church is as absurd as theology without God. Dogmatic theology, then, may be defined as the scientific exposition of the entire theoretical doctrine concerning God Himself and His external activity, based on the dogmas of the Church.
